

Yellow oval represents lowest 10% of -log likelihood with regard to μ .
Blue oval represents lowest 10% of -log likelihood with regard to σ .
Green circle is the lowest -log likelihood overall.
Red circle is the lowest -log likelihood found using Newton type methods when the 1st and 2nd derivatives with respect to μ ONLY are used with $\sigma=1$.